

Light Snow Chances Increasing

December 1, 2024
10:09 PM

Late Monday evening into early Tuesday morning

Key Messages

- An area of light snow is expected to develop over the Western Piedmont as early as 8 PM and shift south into the Sandhills through 5 AM Tuesday morning.
- Confidence is increasing that snow will reach the surface in the southern Piedmont, but uncertainty remains on accumulations (if any).
- Within the yellow box, snow accumulation amounts could range from a few flurries to a dusting, but remain less than 1".
- Any snow that accumulates on bridges and overpasses may result in slippery driving conditions.

Any precipitation that falls will be snow

